The Secret Sauce

25+ simple strategies. One intelligent portfolio.

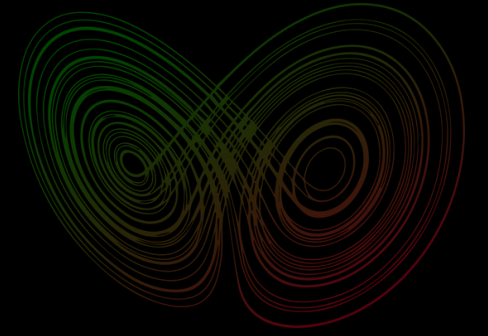

The edge is where complexity emerges from simplicity.

Each strategy we run is simple. A momentum play. A hedge. A yield bet. None particularly smart on its own. But put 25+ together, each obeying its own rule, and something changes. The portfolio adapts, balances, and survives in ways no single strategy could. Like a herd without a leader. Like a school of fish that never collides. The intelligence was never in the parts; it came from how they worked together.

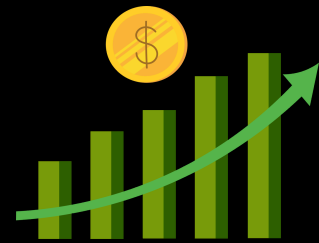

Swarm intelligence is the key to markets.
